

EXPERT SWIMMER SAVES DROWNING MAN

Allyn E. Brown Rescues Harry Lazaros at Local Bathing Beach.

When Allyn E. Brown, 21, 415 Tenth street, dived into the basin yesterday and rescued Harry Lazaros, 22, of Seventh street, from drowning, the number of persons who have been saved from a similar death here this season was increased to five.

The rescued man had gone down for the last time, when a cry for help brought Brown from the bath house. Several persons were frantically calling for help, and not making any effort to save their comrade. Brown dove into the water and succeeded in dragging Lazaros to a nearby float.

About three years ago Brown was swimming at Colonial Beach, Virginia, when he rescued two boys and a girl. They were youngsters who could not swim and had waded out over their heads when he went to their help.

Several Sundays ago, while swimming at the basin, Lazaros was sent out that some one had been drowned. Brown, with several companions, dived for several hours in an effort to find the body. It turned out to be a hoax, for when the bath houses were checked up no one was missing.

Cooks for Army Camps Sought by Uncle Sam

Uncle Sam wants 1,700 bakers and cooks to prepare the bread and ration to be served to the thousands of soldiers who will be mobilized in this country in army camps in the next few weeks. All recruiting officers at the 800 stations maintained by the War Department have been directed to secure applicants for enlistment.

These bakers and cooks are needed so badly that the government stands ready to waive certain physical defects that would disqualify a man from enlisting as a soldier or being drafted. For instance, all flat-footed patriots who are debarred from serving their country in the infantry can enlist as real "dough boys" in the company kitchen.

Local bakers and cooks should apply to Capt. Howard B. Oursler, stationed at Washington Barracks.

Master Barbers Indorse Campaign for Vote Here

Members of the Master Barbers' Association of the city yesterday afternoon began a campaign to secure the right of franchise for the citizens of the District following resolutions indorsing the movement passed at a recent meeting.

Sufficient subscriptions have been received for the purchase of stock in the new Barbers' Supply Exchange and capitalization of the organization at $10,000 seems assured. Stock is being sold to members of the association only.

SOLDIERS' INSURANCE BILL UP NEXT WEEK

Preliminary Work on War Measure Has Been Completed.

The bill providing for the insurance of soldiers will be introduced in Congress next week in all probability. While none of the committee of insurance experts who will confer with Secretary McAdoo on the terms of the measure have come to Washington, they have been in correspondence with him, and it is known that gratifying progress has been made upon the work of drafting a particularly intricate document.

The first conference on the bill will be held in the secretary's office Monday or Tuesday. It is believed a new plan, fathered by the secretary, will have the indorsement of the insurance experts. The idea in the main provides for opportunity for insurance with any of the many companies doing business under the laws of the United States. If a soldier dies in battle it is planned to have the burden of expense borne by the United States.

Rose Accepts New Post.

The Department of Commerce has announced that Stanley H. Rose, of the export department of the Barber Asphalt Company, of Philadelphia, has resigned his position to take charge of the New York branch office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. This office will be of special importance in the department's work of licensing exports under the espionage act.

SOLDIERS ENJOY SHOW BY LOCAL TALENT

Mrs. Newton D. Baker Among Entertainers at Camp Grounds.

More than 2,000 soldiers with their wives, sweethearts and friends, at their "rude" constructed "camp theaters" in the American Legion grounds last evening, enjoyed one of the finest theatrical entertainments yet offered them.

Formality which usually attends a professional performance was thrown to the winds and the khaki-clad soldiers apparently had a "rousing good time."

All variety of attractions had been arranged for the men, ranging from vocal selections by Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of the Secretary of War, to the petite dances of little Miss Tereta Shaeffer, with a quantity of Hawaiian music, con songs and monologues thrown in between.

Mrs. Baker not only sang a number of quaint English songs and the "Marsellaise," but also a song entitled "Uncle Sam," which has just been written by a friend of hers in Cleveland.

Another feature was an imitation of the celebrated actress Elsie Janis, by little Miss Shaeffer, who is in the cast of Miss Janis' new play.

Other numbers on the program were contributed by W. C. Stump, Harry Theis, Miss Grace Meyer, Miss H. Hoffman, and the Schubert Trio.

Miss Elizabeth Howry and Mrs. William M. Black, under whose direction the entertainments are being given, have again appealed for the use of motor cars to carry the entertainers to and from the various encampments. Those who would care to donate their cars for this purpose should phone Mrs. Black, Main 8256, or call at her offices at 1728 I street.

Vincent Astor Serves Country.

New York, July 12.—Vincent Astor, now a naval ensign, is serving with the American naval patrol in foreign waters. William A. Dobbin, his secretary, said last night that he knew Mr. Astor was in English or French waters, but he did not know where.

Mrs. Astor and Miss Ethel Harrison recently arrived in Paris to engage in war relief work.

Vance McCormick's Car Figures in Collision

An automobile owned by Vance McCormick, campaign manager for Representative Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, collided in front of the Shoreham Hotel yesterday afternoon with a Terminal taxicab driven by John Hammett.

The McCormick car was slightly damaged.

BOY FINDS PARENT THROUGH NEWS AD

Ralph Stewart, Kidnapped, Meets Mother After 19 Years' Separation.

(By the International News Service.) Portland, Ore., July 12.—Ralph Stewart, 19 years old, of this city, kidnapped by his father when 1 month old, and who had lost all trace of his mother since that time, has been restored to his mother after years of searching.

The search was conducted from the office of the Juvenile Court here under the direction of William Spencer. Stewart brought his story to Spencer several years ago and at that time a picture of the boy and his story were published in a Portland paper. This brought the first clue to the long-lost parent.

E. C. Carson, of Seattle, who read the story, remembered the facts and communicated with Portland, and through his friends, who had been acquainted with the boy's mother years before, the woman was traced to the little town of Rockport, Wash.

The mother's name is now Mrs. F. J. Melville.

Knight to Be Sworn In.

Gen. John G. D. Knight, U. S. A., who has been named Engineer Commissioner of the District by President Wilson, to succeed Lieut. Col. Charles W. Kutz, ordered to France, will be sworn into office on Saturday or Monday.

NINE RECRUITS JOIN ARTILLERY UNITS HERE

Exhibition of War Films Given in Interest of Command.

Nine recruits for the Second Company of the District Coast Artillery, which, with the other local artillery units, is engaged in a campaign to fill up its ranks this week, were secured yesterday. If the same rate is maintained for the remainder of the week, all the needed recruits will be secured.

At the base of the Washington Monument last night several hundred persons witnessed moving pictures of battle scenes at the French front, including pictures showing coast artillery and aeroplanes are playing in the war against Germany.

A small portion of the many reels which go to "make up these wonderful pictures" was shown at the Vermont Avenue Christian Church last Monday night. The reels shown last night displayed, in addition to the work of the aviators, times at French munition factories. A large portion of the reels was devoted to showing how carrier pigeons are used by artillery officers when the telephone are put out of commission by shell fire.

CAVALRYMEN PLAN FAREWELL DANCE

District Soldiers to Entertain Friends on Eve of Departure.

A farewell ball will be given by the District cavalrymen before they leave on August 5 for their training camp at Spartanburg, S. C. The ball will be held in one of the large public buildings in the city and will be in charge of Lieut. L. Krentzlin and Sergt. Murray A. Cobb, of Troop B. Cavalry officers who are leaving with the allied missions will be the guests of honor.

The District cavalrymen are to be joined at Spartanburg by the four recruits of the Richmond Blues and the four recruits of the New Jersey. The recruiting station at 127 P street will be open until D troop is filled up. It is in charge of Sergt W. E. Boulton.

MINISTRY MAY QUIT

mitted later to the crown council at which the Kaiser presided in person. In explaining the summoning of his son from the front, the monarch said the reforms demanded by the Reichstag affected not only himself but his successor on the throne as well.

Kaiser for Reform.

An official statement to this effect was issued from Berlin. Later a dispatch via Berlin stated that the Kaiser has instructed the chancellor that the reform bill to be submitted to the Prussian Diet must include equal franchise. This in itself is a sweeping concession and virtually spells the death knell to one of the main evils of the Prussian system, since it removes the circular voting in which wealthy, not the majority of the voters, count.

Disputes from the turmoil-shaken Teuton capital makes it more and more apparent that one of the main factors, if not the predominant one, that led to the whole political upheaval, is America's intervention in the war.

"The present ministry," says Berlin's leading editor, Theodore Wolff, in the Tageblatt, "must go, in the first place, because of the bungling way of handling matters which has brought us into the war with America."

Curiously enough, Bethmann-Hollweg is the very man who stood out until the last against the inauguration of unrestricted U-boat warfare. In Matthias Erbsberger, the German leader, who unloosed the storm, cited as a main motive for his attack on the government, his opposition to that warfare because it had not fulfilled its mission in the period originally specified. Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, former American Ambassador at Washington, who lost his race with Zimmermann after his dismissal, looks large today as timber for the foreign secretaryship, and even the imperial chancellor. He is an enemy of unrestricted U-boat warfare and an ardent advocate of peace with America.

Prince Friendly to U. S.

The crown prince's views on submarine warfare are not known, but it is known that he is friendly to the United States. Incidentally he is believed to be an enemy of Hitler. It was the latter who, forced von Falkenhayn out as chief of staff, Falkenhayn fathered the Verdun offensive which the crown prince led. At his conference with the Kaiser the crown prince is believed to have exerted his whole influence against the chancellor.

At the full session of the Reichstag three leading parties will solidly move for a governmental declaration reiterating that of August, 1914, that Germany is fighting a defensive war and fosters no aim at aggression and conquest.

These parties are the Centerists, National Liberals and Socialists. Opposing them on this point are only the Conservatives (Junkers). But the latter too have deserted the chancellor because he did not openly champion their aims of conquest and annexation.

A representative parliamentary government, the ministry, appears the only permanent solution of the German political middle.

WAR GARDEN PLANTERS TO RECEIVE HONOR

Mrs. Longstreet Suggests Plan to Reward Women.

American girls and women who have planted war gardens to help the nation in its need for an increased food supply will be given American flags and will have their names listed at the end of the war, if a bill is passed which has been introduced in the House by Representative Brand at the suggestion of Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the civil war commander.

To receive the flags the garden must have contained more than a quarter of an acre of ground, and crops suitable for human or animal consumption must have been raised.

Mrs. Longstreet, who is credited by Mr. Brand for the resolution, is the author of a book, soon to be published, containing a list of Confederate veterans ever held in the North.

Bears Raid Canadian Farms.

Nelson, B. C., July 12.—Black bears are raiding the farming districts in this vicinity. One big bear entered a pigsty, killed a pig and ate the carcass. Pigs and poultry have been missed by many farmers.
